

The 2006 CSRC Guidelines for Articles of Association of Chinese Listed Companies: Critiquing from an Australian Perspective

by

K L Alex Lau, PhD

Associate Professor

Hong Kong Baptist University

email: alexlau@hkbu.edu.hk and

Angus Young

SJD Candidate

University of Technology Sydney

email: alekyoung@hotmail.com

Abstract

On 16 March 2006, the above new Guidelines came into effect. It attempted to emulate elements of international best practice with a Chinese flair. This paper would articulate that the Guidelines are riddled with ambiguities, whereas Australia's 'replaceable rules' have clarity and expounds a framework of good governance.